

PE1530/LL

Gary Allan Email of 28 December 2014

To Whom it May Concern

Children in Scotland deserve a science education dedicated to settled science not religious drivel. Keep Creationism and Intelligent Design out of science classrooms and give Scottish children a decent chance in the modern science-based world, where real success and accomplishment will be those educated in the theories and discoveries of modern science and capable of making use of them for Scotland's benefit.

Gary Allan