Petitioner Email of 11 October 2016

As discussed on the phone this afternoon I am writing to give you written confirmation of our wish to withdraw our online petition with the Scottish Government.

We have had a meeting with Senior Officers from SFRS and we know have to reluctantly agree that the Museum of Fire will not be able to stay at its existing location at 76 Lauriston Place, Edinburgh and will be moved back to McDonald Road. The Volunteers at the museum have been asked to agree to helping with this process of developing the site and assist in moving the collection.

Its not the result we had hoped for but we have to be realistic and accept the change and hopefully be involved in this process and so the need for the online petition is no longer needed.

I would like to thank you personally for all the help and guidance you have given our group especially during the period when I was abroad on holidays.

Sincerely

Colin Fraser
