followed by Scottish Government Debate: The UK Government's Autumn Budget Statement and the Scottish Economy

S4M-01501 John Swinney: The UK Government's Autumn Budget Statement and the Scottish Economy—That the Parliament notes the Chancellor's Autumn Statement and that the Office for Budget Responsibility has demonstrated that the UK Government's economic and fiscal plan has failed, with a cut of over two thirds in the growth forecast for 2012; agrees that the UK Government's response falls far short of the urgent action that Scotland needs to boost growth; notes that the Chancellor has proposed only a limited increase in capital budgets and that two thirds of the new capital investment will not be available until 2013, despite the urgent need for a stimulus this year and next; supports the Scottish Government's call to the UK Government for a targeted, expanded programme of some £2 billion for capital infrastructure investment in Scotland to help offset the 32% real-terms cut to Scotland's capital budget inflicted by the UK Government; notes that the Scottish Government will support around £9 billion of capital spending over the next three years to deliver new schools, hospitals, houses, roads, water infrastructure, community facilities and improved availability of high speed broadband across Scotland; welcomes the Scottish Government's infrastructure investment plan, which will provide crucial support for employment, with every additional £100 million of capital invested per year estimated to generate £160 million worth of economic activity and support 1,400 jobs in the wider economy for that year; notes that, as a result of the Scottish Government's £2.5 billion non-profit distributing capital programme and switching of resources from revenue to capital, infrastructure investment in Scotland will now rise year on year throughout the spending review period; supports the Scottish Government's actions to boost economic growth through initiatives such as maintaining Scotland as the most competitive environment for business in the UK; supports the Scottish Government's efforts to boost economic security and household budgets by freezing the council tax, abolishing prescription charges and protecting concessionary travel, and welcomes the success of Scotland's enterprise agencies in securing major new investments in recent months from international companies.

The Presiding Officer has selected the following amendments

S4M-01501.3 Richard Baker: The UK Government's Autumn Budget Statement and the Scottish Economy—As an amendment to motion S4M-01501 in the name of John Swinney (The UK Government's Autumn Statement and the Scottish Economy), leave out from first “supports” to end and insert “calls on the UK Government to confer borrowing powers on the Scottish Government from April 2012 to allow for an expanded capital infrastructure programme; notes the publication of the Scottish Government's Infrastructure Investment Plan 2011; urges the Scottish Government to provide milestones for each infrastructure project to ensure that the list of delayed infrastructure projects does not grow longer; notes that Scotland's economic growth over the last 12 months has been disappointing despite economic growth being the stated purpose of the Scottish Government; calls on the Scottish Government to ensure that the measures in the Scottish budget support economic recovery to improve Scotland's growth rate; to this end, urges the Scottish Government to reconsider the significant cuts that it has made to the affordable housing and further education budgets; notes that disposable household income has fallen by 2.3% this year, a post-war record, and is forecast to fall again next year, which coincides with public sector workers in Scotland and the rest of the UK having to pay more in pension contributions; notes that the Chancellor has outlined a further two years of spending cuts and that the proposed six years of cuts in spending are unprecedented, and regrets that the actions of the UK Government will lead to an increase in child poverty.”

S4M-01501.1 Gavin Brown: The UK Government's Autumn Budget Statement and the Scottish Economy—As an amendment to motion S4M-01501 in the name of John Swinney (The UK Government's Autumn Budget Statement and the Scottish Economy), leave out from “that the Office” to end and insert, “and welcomes the numerous measures in it that will help people and businesses across Scotland, including the Chancellor's commitments to fund an ambitious programme of infrastructure investment that will result in an additional £433 million for Scotland, to implement a package of credit easing measures to protect the flow of credit to smaller and medium-sized businesses, freeze fuel duty, make £50 million available to enable the replacement of the Caledonian Sleeper fleet, introduce the Youth Contract, which it is estimated will create opportunities for tens of thousands of young people in Scotland, including apprenticeships and work experience placements, increase the basic state pension, which will benefit one million older people in Scotland and invest in broadband through an urban broadband fund, which will create 10 super-connected cities in the UK including Edinburgh, and therefore calls on the Scottish Government to amend its draft budget to reconsider cuts in areas that help the economy, scrap the anti-competitive retail levy and demonstrate exactly where it is moving revenue spending to capital spending.”

S4M-01501.2 Willie Rennie: The UK Government’s Autumn Budget Statement and the Scottish Economy—As an amendment to motion S4M-01501 in the name of John Swinney (The UK Government’s Autumn Budget Statement and the Scottish Economy), leave out from “that the Office” to end and insert “; notes that the UK Government is investing £68 million in super-fast broadband in Scotland alongside £50 million from the Scottish Government, has won a fuel derogation for the islands from the European Commission, has deferred the 3p fuel duty increase scheduled for January in addition to the cuts in income tax worth £200 to low and middle earners, has increased the bank levy and provided the highest cash increase in the state pension ever announced; notes that the Scottish Government’s response is characterised by an absence of answers on its own plans, including for separation from the rest of the UK and publishing no opinion on the crisis in the Eurozone; is further concerned that the Scottish Government has published no analysis of the credit rating and interest rates likely in an independent Scotland, apart from an unsubstantiated assumption that the UK’s hard-won credit status and record low interest rates would continue in an independent Scotland, even though the evidence from across Europe is that governments that continue to increase borrowing without serious plans to tackle their deficit find that their borrowing rates rocket; understands that such a rise in Scottish borrowing rates on a £60 billion capital programme will result in billions of pounds of extra interest payments and lead to the delay and cancellation of capital projects the length and breadth of the country; finds it absurd that Scottish Government ministers have promised faster delivery of their published investment plans by incorporating additional borrowing made possible through the Scotland Bill while simultaneously threatening to veto the Scotland Bill; is concerned that the Scottish Government is still not using all of the current resources and powers at its disposal, not least on Scottish Water, which continues to have substantial resources locked in it when the Scottish Government's independent budget review and the Scottish Futures Trust both offered alternative, public sector structures that could free substantial resources for investment in the economy; welcomes the UK Government's £1 billion Youth Contract programme, which will see around £100 million of benefit to Scotland, a small part allocated to the Scottish Government but the vast majority provided direct to Scottish businesses to improve the prospects of a generation of young people through employment support; regrets that those prospects for young people are harmed by the Scottish Government's continued plans to cut the budget for colleges despite the unexpected receipt of additional consequential from the UK Government; notes that success in attracting investment by global companies in Scotland is best achieved by joint working with the UK Government, as evidenced by the recent result at Michelin in Dundee, and calls on the Scottish Government to set out the positive impact on its plans of the addition of £430 million capital consequential, set out the projects funded by projected Scottish Government borrowing that would be lost if the Scotland Bill was vetoed and allocate its revenue consequential, including a sum to prevent cuts to college budgets."

Legislative Consent Motion: Legal Aid, Sentencing and Punishment of Offenders Bill – UK Legislation

S4M-01510 Kenny MacAskill: Legal Aid, Sentencing and Punishment of Offenders Bill – UK Legislation—That the Parliament agrees that the relevant provisions of the Legal Aid, Sentencing and Punishment of Offenders Bill, introduced in the House of Commons on 21 June 2011, relating to Council Framework Decision 2008/909/JHA on prisoner transfer, so far as these matters fall within the legislative competence of the Scottish Parliament, should be considered by the UK Parliament.

Business Bulletin: Wednesday 7 December 2011

Section F – Motions and Amendments

Motions and amendments are normally printed the day after they are lodged. If an amendment is lodged to a motion then the original motion will appear alongside the amendment, along with any support lodged that day, in this section.

Each Monday, this section also contains all motions and amendments lodged the previous week that are still live and any motions and amendments that have been lodged for debate in the coming week. A motion or amendment is live if it has not been debated, withdrawn or otherwise deleted from the list.

Where a motion or amendment has been withdrawn, it is indicated in this section the day after it has been withdrawn. Support for motions and amendments received after they are lodged is shown at the end of this section the day after such support is received.

Motions and amendments can be published with various symbols:

- Asterisks before the motion or amendment number indicate a motion or amendment published for the first time;
- Asterisks also identify alterations to the text of a motion or amendment made since it was first published;
- A hash symbol identifies motions eligible for debate at Members' Business;
- A diamond symbol identifies motions lodged for Members' Business that have not yet attracted the required cross-party support;
- An "R", identifies motions or amendments in which the Member who lodged it has a registrable interest.

The Parliamentary Bureau periodically deletes motions or amendments not scheduled for debate and which are over six weeks old.

A search facility is also available on the Scottish Parliament web site at <http://www.scottish.parliament.uk/parliamentarybusiness/28877.aspx>.

Any questions in relation to this section should be directed to the Chamber Desk, for which contact details are provided at the end of the Bulletin.

New and altered motions and amendments

S4M-01526 Fergus Ewing: Regulatory Framework—That the Parliament agrees that better regulation is an important driver of sustainable economic growth and endorses the Scottish Government’s commitment to better regulation rather than deregulation; welcomes the Scottish Government’s commitment to delivering regulation that is proportionate, consistent, transparent, accountable and targeted only where needed, and supports a regulatory framework in which government, regulators and business work together to identify regulatory barriers to growth and deliver an outcomes-based approach, thereby providing a favourable environment for business to grow and flourish, creating jobs and improving lives.

Supported by: John Swinney*

S4M-01525 Drew Smith: Strathclyde New Opportunities Fund—That the Parliament welcomes the announcement by Glasgow City Council that the Strathclyde Pension Fund is to invest up to £100 million in small businesses; understands that Strathclyde Pension Fund has created a New Opportunities Fund, which will invest in businesses based and operating in Glasgow and much of the west of Scotland; further understands that the fund will assess the business plans, ideas and investment potential and, it is hoped, offer support that these firms want yet have been unable to obtain elsewhere, particularly due to what it sees as the unwillingness of many banks to lend; acknowledges that applications to the fund will be assessed by a panel of experts in the public and private sectors; notes that this announcement follows the creation by Glasgow City Council of a Commonwealth Apprenticeships Programme, a Commonwealth Jobs Fund and a Commonwealth Graduate Jobs Scheme and welcomes the initiatives being taking across some local authorities to create new opportunities for jobs, skills and businesses, and hopes that both the Scottish Government and other local authorities will take cognisance of these initiatives and bring forward many more innovative approaches to tackling unemployment in Scotland.

S4M-01524 Roseanna Cunningham: Offensive Behaviour and Threatening Communications at Football (Scotland) Bill—That the Parliament agrees that the Offensive Behaviour and Threatening Communications at Football (Scotland) Bill be passed.

Supported by: Kenny MacAskill*

S4M-01523 Michael Matheson: Violence against Women, Focusing on Prevention as a Means to an End—That the Parliament reaffirms its continuing commitment to eradicating all forms of violence against women; notes the Scottish Government’s increased emphasis on prevention and early intervention to tackle this issue; celebrates Scottish Women’s Aid’s tireless campaigning for effective responses to domestic abuse and congratulates the organisation on its 35th anniversary; welcomes the Forced Marriage etc. (Protection and Jurisdiction) (Scotland) Act 2011 and the Domestic Abuse (Scotland) Act 2011 and the increased protection that these pieces of legislation provide for victims, and acknowledges the dedication, effort and creativity demonstrated by all the agencies working to address violence against women in Scotland.

Supported by: Nicola Sturgeon*

S4M-01522 Stewart Stevenson: Crofting Commission (Elections) (Scotland) Regulations 2011 [draft]—That the Rural Affairs, Climate Change and Environment Committee recommends that the Crofting Commission (Elections) (Scotland) Regulations 2011 [draft] be approved.

Supported by: Richard Lochhead*

S4M-01521 Neil Bibby: Renfrewshire Women's Association, Wear Your White Ribbon—That the Parliament welcomes Renfrewshire Women's Association's Annual Conference, which took place on 29 November 2011 in Paisley Town Hall; notes that the conference raised a number of serious issues, including the trafficking of women and children in Scotland; acknowledges the ongoing work of Renfrewshire Women's Association, in which women and supporting agencies come together to raise awareness about gender-based violence including domestic abuse, rape, sexual assault and childhood sexual abuse; applauds the association's aims in wishing Renfrewshire to be a safe place for women and children to live, work and play and a place where no form of violence against woman and children is tolerated by residents, and supports the association's Wear Your White Ribbon campaign to help protect the future of Scotland's children and their children, which runs until 10 December.

Supported by: Derek Mackay*, Kenneth Gibson*

S4M-01520 Bruce Crawford on behalf of the Parliamentary Bureau: Approval of SSI—That the Parliament agrees that the Climate Change (Limits on Carbon Units) (Scotland) Order 2011 [draft] be approved.

S4M-01519 Bruce Crawford on behalf of the Parliamentary Bureau: Designation of Lead Committee—That the Parliament agrees that the Economy, Energy and Tourism Committee be designated as the lead committee in consideration of the Land Registration etc. (Scotland) Bill at Stage 1.

S4M-01516 Colin Beattie: Parents 'n' Tots Awarded—That the Parliament congratulates Parents 'n' Tots at the Loanhead Community Learning Centre on its recent award of £9,648 from the Big Lottery Fund; recognises that it aims to expand and provide new activities for parents and their children, broaden its services to reach more members of the community and run better structured programmes and sessions; understands that the money will be spent on a Parental Early Education Partnership (PEEP) tutor, toddler gym tutor, trips, healthy snacks and musical instruments; appreciates Parents 'n' Tots' dedication to creating sustainable services and to reaching more local communities, and wishes it the best of success in its future endeavours.

Supported by: Margaret Burgess*, Dennis Robertson*, Humza Yousaf*

S4M-01515 Colin Beattie: Alny Graham Retiring after 40 Years of Service—That the Parliament commends Mrs Alny Graham for what it considers her 40 years of unstinting service to the Children's Hearings System as a panel member and a member of the Children's Panel Advisory Committee (CPAC); considers that her long experience in the hearings system has been of great importance throughout the many changes that have taken place; notes her support of a number of panel and CPAC chairs and her assisting them with difficult decisions; considers that she showed excellent judgment in recruiting new panel members; applauds her dedication and concern for the children in making sure that their voices were heard, their hearings were fair and their interests were put first by the Children's Hearings System; recognises the good that she has done for children over the course of her career, and wishes her all the best in her forthcoming retirement.

S4M-01514 Colin Beattie: Mayfield and Easthouse Youth 2000 Project Awarded—That the Parliament congratulates Mayfield and Easthouse Youth 2000 Project on its recent £8,576 award from the Big Lottery Fund; recognises that it will purchase gardening equipment and employ sessional workers to support and increase the involvement of young people as volunteers in its newly developed social enterprise, Midlothian Garden Services; applauds the project for its dedication to providing opportunities for young people while simultaneously creating a more beautiful environment in the community, and wishes it success in its future endeavours.

Supported by: Dennis Robertson*, Stuart McMillan*, Annabelle Ewing*

S4M-01512 Stuart McMillan: Finnish Independence Day—That the Parliament recognises the anniversary of the establishment of Finland as an independent state on 6 December 1917; wishes its citizens and residents well with their itsenäisyyspäivä celebrations, and looks forward to burgeoning economic and cultural links between Scotland and her Nordic cousins who it considers, although small and relatively young, are wealthy, modern, progressive states that engage fully in the community of nations.

Supported by: James Dornan*, Joe FitzPatrick*, Richard Lyle*, Humza Yousaf*, Dennis Robertson*, Rob Gibson*, Bill Walker*, Annabelle Ewing*, Willie Coffey*, Margaret Burgess*, Clare Adamson*, Kevin Stewart*, Kenneth Gibson*

S4M-01511 Roderick Campbell: Cupar, Best Adopted Station 2011—That the Parliament congratulates Cupar Station on being recognised as Scotland's Best Adopted Station 2011 by Passenger Focus; commends the hard work of local stakeholders such as Cupar in Bloom, Cupar Heritage, station staff and users; acknowledges the calibre of previous winners, including Wemyss Bay and Renton stations, and welcomes Passenger Focus' view that "Cupar exemplifies the spirit of the station at the heart of the community".

Supported by: Richard Lyle*, John Park*, Humza Yousaf*, Maureen Watt*, Rob Gibson*, Annabelle Ewing*, Dennis Robertson*, Liz Smith*, Margaret Burgess*, Kevin Stewart*, Kenneth Gibson*, Jean Urquhart*

S4M-01510 Kenny MacAskill: Legal Aid, Sentencing and Punishment of Offenders Bill – UK Legislation—That the Parliament agrees that the relevant provisions of the Legal Aid, Sentencing and Punishment of Offenders Bill, introduced in the House of Commons on 21 June 2011, relating to Council Framework Decision 2008/909/JHA on prisoner transfer, so far as these matters fall within the legislative competence of the Scottish Parliament, should be considered by the UK Parliament.

Supported by: Roseanna Cunningham*

S4M-01509 Richard Simpson: Supporting Healthy Choices—That the Parliament considers that there is a need to support consumers in making healthy choices regarding what they eat; notes that there is independent research suggesting that using a hybrid system of labelling including traffic light colours would be the most effective system for UK consumers; regrets what it considers to have been a missed opportunity for the European Parliament to introduce a mandatory front of package traffic light food-labelling system during the negotiations concerning the food information to consumers regulations; understands that this was despite the efforts of health charities such as the British Heart Foundation and Diabetes UK; welcomes however that the regulations allow member states to recommend the use of one or more additional forms of expression, and calls on the UK Government to follow the recommendation made by the House of Lords Science and Technology Committee in its report, Behaviour Change, and introduce a traffic light system of front of pack labelling on all food packaging.

Supported by: Hanzala Malik*, Graeme Dey*, Richard Simpson*, David Torrance*, Kevin Stewart*, Kenneth Gibson*, Patricia Ferguson*, Jackie Baillie*, Neil Findlay*, Anne McTaggart*

S4M-01508 Sandra White: Turner Prize 2011—That the Parliament congratulates Glasgow sculptor Martin Boyce, winner of the Turner Prize 2011; notes that this continues a run of great success in the competition by Scottish artists, who have now scooped what is seen as this acclaimed accolade for the third year running; believes that such success is a testament to the drive and passion of the artists, their teachers and schools, such as the Glasgow School of Art, where Boyce studied; further believes that modern Scottish art has undeniable strength and that this achievement will help to encourage other young people to look to art as a means of individual and collective expression, and encourages the organisers of the Turner Prize to actively consider staging the 2014 competition in Scotland.

S4M-01507 Patrick Harvie: No Place for Hate, LGBT Hate Crime in Education—That the Parliament notes with concern the findings of the recent National Union of Students' report, No Place for Hate, that LGBT students are 10 times more likely than non-LGBT students to have concerns about being subject to abuse while studying at university or college, that 31% have experienced at least one incident of hate crime related to their sexual orientation at their place of study and yet only 4% of incidents are ever reported to the police, and believes that, as LGBT History Month, a month aimed at ending the silence imposed on the LGBT community, launches on 8 December 2011, action is needed to increase the reporting of hate crime incidents.

Supported by: Liam McArthur*, Joe FitzPatrick*, Mary Fee*, Kezia Dugdale*, Neil Findlay*, Drew Smith*, John Park*, Humza Yousaf*, John Finnie*

S4M-01506 Graeme Dey: Selfless Effort Ensuring Scotland Stays Open for Business—That the Parliament commends the work of gritter drivers and emergency services staff in Scotland who have worked hard to ensure that roads are kept open, people's safety is ensured and the country keeps moving in the current freezing conditions being experienced across the nation; considers that, over the last two years, the extreme weather experienced by Scots through the coldest months has seen sterling efforts carried out not only by those mentioned above but also by railway staff, HGV drivers, utility company employees, the voluntary sector, postal workers and many individual cases of ordinary people helping family members, neighbours and the most vulnerable members of local communities; praises what it sees as these selfless efforts, without which many people would be stranded during what is considered some of the worst weather seen in a generation, and urges Scots over the winter of 2011-12 to continue to look out for older and vulnerable people by clearing their paths, ensuring that they have food and regularly checking on their welfare and to take time to consider the hard work going on night and day by so many people to ensure that Scotland stays open for business throughout the snowy and icy conditions.

Supported by: Kevin Stewart*, Margaret Burgess*, Angus MacDonald*, Kenneth Gibson*, Hanzala Malik*, Bill Walker*, David Torrance*, Rob Gibson*, John Finnie*, Humza Yousaf*, Mike MacKenzie*, Dennis Robertson*, George Adam*, Annabelle Ewing*

S4M-01505 Jim Hume: A Democratic Future for Gaza—That the Parliament recognises that the Council for European Palestinian Relations recently led its largest humanitarian delegation yet to the Gaza Strip, consisting of around 100 delegates from across the political spectrum from 40 countries; understands that around 1.6 million people are besieged in the Gaza Strip with insufficient supplies of medicine in the area and that, according to the World Health Organization, the water supply is far below standard and deteriorating; believes that the economy of the Gaza Strip and its health service are unable to continue with the current export and import ban on goods and that the ordinary day-to-day lives of individuals in the area are severely affected, with a high incidence of psychological problems arising; notes the demise of the Gazan fishing industry since the restrictions were imposed on its territorial waters; understands that young people in Gaza cannot leave the area for education or job opportunities; recognises the importance of the two main Palestinian political parties agreeing to have democratic elections in the spring of 2012, and calls on the international community to support those democratic aims and work toward ending the siege of Gaza.

S4M-01504 Hanzala Malik: Scottish Success at 2011 Turner Prize—That the Parliament congratulates the artist, Martin Boyce, a graduate of the Glasgow School of Art who continues to live and work in the city, on winning the 2011 Turner Prize for his installation, Do Words Have Voices; notes that Karla Black, a fellow graduate of the Glasgow School of Art, also made the four-strong shortlist; commends both artists for their contribution to contemporary art in Scotland, and believes that their success strengthens the case for a future Turner Prize exhibition to be held in Glasgow as part of Tate’s commitment to holding the exhibition outside London in every odd-numbered year.

Supported by: John Pentland*, Neil Findlay*, Jamie McGrigor*, Kenneth Gibson*, Drew Smith*, Mary Fee*, Liam McArthur*, John Mason*, Kevin Stewart*, Patricia Ferguson*, Clare Adamson*, Sandra White*, Mike MacKenzie*, Anne McTaggart*, Sarah Boyack*, Kezia Dugdale*, Jackie Baillie*, Humza Yousaf*, Roderick Campbell*, Neil Bibby*, Annabelle Ewing*

S4M-01502 Christina McKelvie: Congratulations to Martin Boyce, Winner of the Turner Prize—That the Parliament congratulates the Hamilton-born sculptor, Martin Boyce, on being awarded the 2011 Turner Prize for what was judged the best collection of work by a British artist under 50 in the past 12 months; notes that he emerged to win the prize from what was considered to be a particularly strong shortlist; further notes that Martin Boyce is the third Scottish winner of the Turner Prize in as many years, following Susan Philipsz in 2010 and Richard Wright in 2009; further notes that Martin Boyce was joined on the 2011 Turner Prize shortlist by fellow Scottish artist and Glasgow School of Art graduate, Karla Black; notes that both Martin and Karla continue to live and work in Glasgow, and believes that the critical and popular acclaim achieved by these artists demonstrates that today’s Scottish contemporary art scene is indisputably one of the world’s most stimulating, vibrant and creative.

S4M-01501.1 Gavin Brown: The UK Government’s Autumn Budget Statement and the Scottish Economy—As an amendment to motion S4M-01501 in the name of John Swinney (The UK Government’s Autumn Budget Statement and the Scottish Economy), leave out from "that the Office" to end and insert, "and welcomes the numerous measures in it that will help people and businesses across Scotland, including the Chancellor’s commitments to fund an ambitious programme of infrastructure investment that will result in an additional £433 million for Scotland, to implement a package of credit easing measures to protect the flow of credit to smaller and medium-sized businesses, freeze fuel duty, make £50 million available to enable the replacement of the Caledonian Sleeper fleet, introduce the Youth Contract, which it is estimated will create opportunities for tens of thousands of young people in Scotland, including apprenticeships and work experience placements, increase the basic state pension, which will benefit one million older people in Scotland and invest in broadband through an urban broadband fund, which will create 10 super-connected cities in the UK including Edinburgh, and therefore calls on the Scottish Government to amend its draft budget to reconsider cuts in areas that help the economy, scrap the anti-competitive retail levy and demonstrate exactly where it is moving revenue spending to capital spending.”

S4M-01501.2 Willie Rennie: The UK Government’s Autumn Budget Statement and the Scottish Economy—As an amendment to motion S4M-01501 in the name of John Swinney (The UK Government’s Autumn Budget Statement and the Scottish Economy), leave out from "that the Office" to end and insert "; notes that the UK Government is investing £68 million in super-fast broadband in Scotland alongside £50 million from the Scottish Government, has won a fuel derogation for the islands from the European Commission, has deferred the 3p fuel duty increase scheduled for January in addition to the cuts in income tax worth £200 to low and middle earners, has increased the bank levy and provided the highest cash increase in the state pension ever announced; notes that the Scottish Government’s response is characterised by an absence of answers on its own plans, including for separation from the rest of the UK and publishing no opinion on the crisis in the Eurozone; is further concerned that the Scottish Government has published no analysis of the credit rating and interest rates likely in an independent Scotland, apart from an unsubstantiated assumption that the UK’s hard-won credit status and record low interest rates would continue in an independent Scotland, even though the evidence from across Europe is that governments that continue to increase borrowing without serious plans to tackle their deficit find that their borrowing rates rocket; understands that such a rise in Scottish borrowing rates on a £60 billion capital programme will result in billions of pounds of extra interest payments and lead to the delay and cancellation of capital projects the length and breadth of the country; finds it absurd that Scottish Government ministers have promised faster delivery of their published investment plans by incorporating additional borrowing made possible through the Scotland Bill while simultaneously threatening to veto the Scotland Bill; is concerned that the Scottish Government is still not using all of the current resources and powers at its disposal, not least on Scottish Water, which continues to have substantial resources locked in it when the Scottish Government’s independent budget review and the Scottish Futures Trust both offered alternative, public sector structures that could free substantial resources for investment in the economy; welcomes the UK Government’s £1 billion Youth Contract programme, which will see around £100 million of benefit to Scotland, a small part allocated to the Scottish Government but the vast majority provided direct to Scottish businesses to improve the prospects of a generation of young people through employment support; regrets that those prospects for young people are harmed by the Scottish Government’s continued plans to cut the budget for colleges despite the unexpected receipt of additional consequential from the UK Government; notes that success in attracting investment by global companies in Scotland is best achieved by joint working with the UK Government, as evidenced by the recent result at Michelin in Dundee, and calls on the Scottish Government to set out the positive impact on its plans of the addition of £430 million capital consequential, set out the projects funded by projected Scottish Government borrowing that would be lost if the Scotland Bill was vetoed and allocate its revenue consequential, including a sum to prevent cuts to college budgets.”

S4M-01501.3 Richard Baker: The UK Government’s Autumn Budget Statement and the Scottish Economy—As an amendment to motion S4M-01501 in the name of John Swinney (The UK Government’s Autumn Statement and the Scottish Economy), leave out from first "supports" to end and insert "calls on the UK Government to confer borrowing powers on the Scottish Government from April 2012 to allow for an expanded capital infrastructure programme; notes the publication of the Scottish Government's Infrastructure Investment Plan 2011; urges the Scottish Government to provide milestones for each infrastructure project to ensure that the list of delayed infrastructure projects does not grow longer; notes that Scotland's economic growth over the last 12 months has been disappointing despite economic growth being the stated purpose of the Scottish Government; calls on the Scottish Government to ensure that the measures in the Scottish budget support economic recovery to improve Scotland's growth rate; to this end, urges the Scottish Government to reconsider the significant cuts that it has made to the affordable housing and further education budgets; notes that disposable household income has fallen by 2.3% this year, a post-war record, and is forecast to fall again next year, which coincides with public sector workers in Scotland and the rest of the UK having to pay more in pension contributions; notes that the Chancellor has outlined a further two years of spending cuts and that the proposed six years of cuts in spending are unprecedented, and regrets that the actions of the UK Government will lead to an increase in child poverty."

Section J – Progress of Legislation

For further information on the progress of Bills and subordinate legislation, contact either the relevant clerk or webpage (see end of Bulletin for details).

Bills in Progress

A list of all bills in progress can be accessed by the Scottish Parliament website at:

<http://www.scottish.parliament.uk/parliamentarybusiness/Bills/576.aspx>

For each Bill, the date of the next (or most recent) event in the Bill's passage is given. Other relevant information, e.g. about lodging amendments, is given in italics.

As soon as a Public Bill (i.e. an Executive, Committee or Member's Bill) has completed Stage 1, amendments for consideration at Stage 2 may be lodged; and as soon as Stage 2 is completed, amendments for Stage 3 consideration may be lodged. The last lodging day for amendments at Stage 2 is three sitting days before the meeting at which those amendments will be considered (e.g. Thursday for a meeting on Tuesday); at Stage 3 it is four days before. Amendments may be lodged until 4.30 pm on any sitting day, except on the last lodging day for Stage 2, when the deadline is 12 noon.

A Hybrid Bill is subject to the same rules except in the case of Stage 2 where amendments for consideration may be lodged no earlier than the completion of any consideration of evidence at Stage 2.

Amendments to Private Bills are subject to different deadlines. These are set out in Rule 9A.12 of Standing Orders.

Members are advised to lodge amendments in good time before the beginning of a Stage and as early as possible during the day.

(Ex) = Executive Bill; (M) = Member's Bill; (C) = Committee Bill; (P) = Private Bill; (H) = Hybrid Bill.
