Promoter: Multiple Art Aspects of National Taiwan Museum of Fine Arts

Prof. Ava Hsueh obtained her D.A. degree of Department of Art and Art Professions in New York University, and currently serves as the Honorary Professor in Tainan National University of Arts. She has long chosen abstract language as her expression of artistic creation, and was appointed as the Director of National Taiwan Museum of Fine Arts and Chief Executive of National Cultural and Arts Foundation. Her art works are mainly constituted by biomorphic abstraction and geometric abstraction to express a hybrid reality, whose mixture and adjustment correspond to epochal shifts and the characteristic of contemporary abstract art. Her work has been widely collected by National Taiwan Museum of Fine Art, Taipei Fine Arts Museum, Kaohsiung Museum of Fine Arts, National Art Museum of China (Beijing), White Rabbit Museum (Australia), private collection and etc., and has been exhibited in many venues around the world.
